

Bow. Salty

THE KENTUCKY TRIBUNE.

INO. F. ZIMMERMAN & SON,
Publishers.

A WEEKLY WHIG NEWSPAPER.

VOL X--NO. 39.

THE KENTUCKY TRIBUNE
is published every Friday morning, by
Jno. F. Zimmerman & Son,
Editors and Proprietors.

OFFICE—Third Street, north of Main.

TERMS.

per annum, in advance, $2.00
Within six months, $1.50
At the end of the year, $3.00

TO CLUBS.

Three copies for $5.00 only $1.66 each.
Five " " 8.00, " 1.60
Ten " " 15.00, " 3.00
Fifteen " " 20.00, " 3.33
Twenty " " 25.00, " 4.17

We will give one copy of the Tribune, and one copy of either Graham's, Godley's, or Sartain's Magazine, one year, for $4.00

No paper discontinued until all arrears are paid, except at the option of the publishers.

ADVERTISING.

For each square of 12 lines or less, first insertion, $1.00
Each additional insertion, .25
A liberal discount made to Yearly advertisers, 1.50
Advertisements of a personal character charged double.
Announcing a candidate for any office, $1.00
Continuing same until the election, 1.00
Announcement Fees to be paid in advance.

JOB WORK

Of every description executed with neatness and dispatch, and on reasonable terms.

HUMOROUS.

KEEPING FOLKS IN MEETING.—When Mr. Moody, (Handkerchief Moody) was on a journey in the western part of Massachusetts, he called on his brother in the ministry, on Saturday, thinking to spend the Sabbath with him if agreeable. The man appeared very glad to see him, and said:

"I should be very glad to have you stop and preach for me to-morrow, but I feel ashamed to ask you."

"Why, what is the matter?" said Mr. Moody.

"Why, our people have got into such a habit of going out before meeting is closed, that it seems to be an imposition on a stranger."

"If that is all, I must and will stop and preach for you," said Mr. Moody's wife.

When the Sabbath day came, and Mr. Moody had opened the meeting and named the text, he looked around on the assembly and said:

"My hearers, I am going to speak to two kind of folks today, saints and sinners. Sinners, I am going to give you my portion first, and I would have you give good attention."

When he had preached to them as long as he thought best, he paused and said:

"There, sirs, I have done with you now. You may take your hats and go out of the meeting house as soon as you please."

But all hurried and heard him through.

A DOGE.—When Deacon B. got into a bad position, he was very expert in crawling out of it. Though quick tempered he was one of the best deacons in the world. He could not in a sober moment utter an oath, or anything like one, for his weight in cedar.

At the close of a rainy day, he was walking up on a knoll in his barn yard, on one side of which was a dirty trough, and on the other an old ram, that, in consideration of his usual quiet disposition, was allowed to run with the cows. The deacon was plausibly bumbling Old Hundred, and had just finished the line ending with "existed high," when the ram obeying a sudden impulse to be aggressive, gave him a blow from behind that put him up a short distance, only to fall directly into the trough, where the dirty water was deep enough to give him a thorough immersion. As he crawled out, and before he rose from his hands and knees, he looked over his shoulder at the ram, and then quietly vociferated—

"You d—d old cuss!" but looking round and seeing one of his neighbors at the barn looking at him, he added, in the same breath, "if I may be allowed the expression."—[Carson Bag.]

Our Daniel remarked the other day, that the next time he put up at a hotel he would enter his name as "Daniel Sharp-Judge."

We asked him if he had tried it, and he replied:

"Yes, I tried it once, and it worked like a charm, I had the best accommodations in the house for about a week, without any expense—till the landlord touched me on my arm one day, and says he:

"You are Judge of Probate, are you not?"

"No," I replied.

"Not of the Supreme Court, certainly," says he.

"No," rejoined I, "not of any court."

"Of what are you judge then," thinking of the many fixins he had sent up to my room.

"I am judge," possestly replied I, "of good living."

IMPORTANT TO POSTMASTERS.—The San-

ctuan Courier of the 19th ult., says:

A case was tried during the recent session of the United States circuit court in this city, which ought to be generally understood, both by the people and the official who have charge of the various post offices throughout the country. The postmaster at Sylvania, in Scioto county, was arraigned and fined fifty dollars for delaying a letter in his office.

The law makes it the imperative duty of every postmaster to forward all mail matter deposited one half hour before the departure of the mail, unless a longer time should be granted by the Postmaster General on account of the business in the office.

POETRY.

TO ILLINOIS.
BY F. W. BREWER.

They may talk of the land of the mountains—
Of their homes 'mid the valleys and hills;
The gush of their moss-bordered fountains;
The mad rush of their torrents and rills—
They may boast of their cliff-girded rivers—
Of their cataracts' thunder and roar!
Of their lakes, where the moon-beam quivers
On the waves as they leap to the shore.

They may talk of their soil's consecration,
By the blood which their fathers had shed,
And point to the towers that a nation
Has reared o'er the dust of their dead;
They may boast o'er their glittering treasures,
And boast them of science and arts,
May stroll through the halls of their pleasure,
Up rear'd mid their trade-crowded marts.

They may talk of the land of the mountains—
Of their homes 'mid the valleys and hills;

They may talk of their soil's consecration,

By the blood which their fathers had shed,

And point to the towers that a nation

Has reared o'er the dust of their dead;

They may boast o'er their glittering treasures,

And boast them of science and arts,

May stroll through the halls of their pleasure,

Up rear'd mid their trade-crowded marts.

They may talk of the land of the mountains—

Of their homes 'mid the valleys and hills;

They may talk of their soil's consecration,

By the blood which their fathers had shed,

And point to the towers that a nation

Has reared o'er the dust of their dead;

They may boast o'er their glittering treasures,

And boast them of science and arts,

May stroll through the halls of their pleasure,

Up rear'd mid their trade-crowded marts.

They may talk of the land of the mountains—

Of their homes 'mid the valleys and hills;

They may talk of their soil's consecration,

By the blood which their fathers had shed,

And point to the towers that a nation

Has reared o'er the dust of their dead;

They may boast o'er their glittering treasures,

And boast them of science and arts,

May stroll through the halls of their pleasure,

Up rear'd mid their trade-crowded marts.

They may talk of the land of the mountains—

Of their homes 'mid the valleys and hills;

They may talk of their soil's consecration,

By the blood which their fathers had shed,

And point to the towers that a nation

Has reared o'er the dust of their dead;

They may boast o'er their glittering treasures,

And boast them of science and arts,

May stroll through the halls of their pleasure,

Up rear'd mid their trade-crowded marts.

They may talk of the land of the mountains—

Of their homes 'mid the valleys and hills;

They may talk of their soil's consecration,

By the blood which their fathers had shed,

And point to the towers that a nation

Has reared o'er the dust of their dead;

They may boast o'er their glittering treasures,

And boast them of science and arts,

May stroll through the halls of their pleasure,

Up rear'd mid their trade-crowded marts.

They may talk of the land of the mountains—

Of their homes 'mid the valleys and hills;

They may talk of their soil's consecration,

By the blood which their fathers had shed,

And point to the towers that a nation

Has reared o'er the dust of their dead;

They may boast o'er their glittering treasures,

And boast them of science and arts,

May stroll through the halls of their pleasure,

Up rear'd mid their trade-crowded marts.

They may talk of the land of the mountains—

Of their homes 'mid the valleys and hills;

They may talk of their soil's consecration,

By the blood which their fathers had shed,

And point to the towers that a nation

Has reared o'er the dust of their dead;

They may boast o'er their glittering treasures,

And boast them of science and arts,

May stroll through the halls of their pleasure,

Up rear'd mid their trade-crowded marts.

They may talk of the land of the mountains—

Of their homes 'mid the valleys and hills;

They may talk of their soil's consecration,

By the blood which their fathers had shed,

And point to the towers that a nation

Has reared o'er the dust of their dead;

They may boast o'er their glittering treasures,

And boast them of science and arts,

May stroll through the halls of their pleasure,

Up rear'd mid their trade-crowded marts.

They may talk of the land of the mountains—

Of their homes 'mid the valleys and hills;

They may talk of their soil's consecration,

By the blood which their fathers had shed,

And point to the towers that a nation

Has reared o'er the dust of their dead;

They may boast o'er their glittering treasures,

And boast them of science and arts,

May stroll through the halls of their pleasure,

Up rear'd mid their trade-crowded marts.

They may talk of the land of the mountains—

Of their homes 'mid the valleys and hills;

They may talk of their soil's consecration,

By the blood which their fathers had shed,

And point to the towers that a nation

Has reared o'er the dust of their dead;

They may boast o'er their glittering treasures,

And boast them of science and arts,

May stroll through the halls of their pleasure,

Up rear'd mid their trade-crowded marts.

They may talk of the land of the mountains—

Of their homes 'mid the valleys and hills;

They may talk of their soil's consecration,

By the blood which their fathers had shed,

And point to the towers that a nation

Has reared o'er the dust of their dead;

They may boast o'er their glittering treasures,

And boast them of science and arts,

May stroll through the halls of their pleasure,

Up rear'd mid their trade-crowded marts.

They may talk of the land of the mountains—

Of their homes 'mid the valleys and hills;

They may talk of their soil's consecration,

By the blood which their fathers had shed,

THE TRIBUNE.

DANVILLE, KY.:
FRIDAY, ::::: MAY 13, 1853.

SELECTED ITEMS. ON ALL SORTS OF SUBJECTS.

BY SCISSORS AND PASTE-BRUSH.

English ships are wrecked at the rate of two per day.

The Mail says that every 35th voter in Boston is a rum-seller.

The Cabinet has under consideration the Nicaragua troubles.

The late Congress authorized the printing of our Presidents' lives.

Another cargo of iron from Russia has arrived at San Francisco.

The Emperor of France has fully recovered from his late illness.

Lamarine is dying; his physicians have no hopes of him.

They have discovered pure gold in Mayo, at Castlebar, Ireland.

There are 511 convicts at present in the Ohio penitentiary.

The Owingsboro' Gazette establishment is offered for sale.

It is said that 100,000 bales of cotton will be shipped from Texas this year.

The frequent use of asperges is strongly recommended in affections of the chest and lungs.

Chief Justice Gibson, of Pennsylvania died at Philadelphia on Tuesday morning last.

A slight shock of an earthquake was felt in Wheeling on the 21st, about 15 minutes past 9 o'clock, A. M.

In New York, Land Warrants are scarce and in demand. The brokers are paying $163, $84 and $43 for them.

We learn that Mr. Wal on and others of Frankfort, Ky., are about to erect a cotton factory in that city.

The Kentucky Yeoman announces the death of Joshua McQueen to Franklin county aged one hundred and six years.

A grocery store in Virginia consists of a small quantity of sugar, flour, mashes, and a dozen barrels of whiskey.

Hudson River Railway.—The double track of this road will be laid through its whole length by the first of August next.

The Scioto Gazette and Hillsborough News post Barnum's Museum as one of the greatest humbugs of the age.

The number of letters that passed through the London Post Office in 1836, was only 76 millions; now it is nearly 400,000.

The Richmond Whig states that the entire line of the Virginia Central Railroad, except twenty miles, is under construction.

The warrant of the Governor of Pennsylvania for the execution of Arthur Spring, was read to the condemned man on the 21st inst., by Sheriff Allen.

Every portion of the hog is put to some use in Cincinnati. They have finally succeeded in turning the squeal to account by using it in opera.

A negro man and a team of mules belonging to Isaac Paul, were drowned in the Cumberland River at Nashville on Wednesday.

A young man jumped from the "City of Huntsville" on her last trip down from Cumberland river, and cut his throat in the water. His name is not given.

It is stated that the President of the Virginia and Tennessee railroad has received an order from England for 200 tons Rockbridge pig iron.

The telegraph announces that the Hon. Philip Allen has been elected U. S. Senator from Rhode Island, in place of Mr. Clark.

Turkey takes no fewer than three and a half million of British manufacturers a year, while Russia buys only one and a quarter million's worth.

In New Jersey, the folks are so cramped for means that whenever a couple marry, the County officers have to open a new poor house to hold the result.

The Nashville Banner, speaking of the different railroads which will concentrate at that city in a few years, predicts that they will cause large accessions to the population.

It is said that the government of the Sandwich Islands has appealed to our Government for protection against another attempted dictation on the part of France.

Mrs. Frost, of the town of Madison, (late Elton,) New Hampshire, a lady now in her hundred year, is engaged in knitting a pair of woolen stockings for exhibition at the World's Fair at New York.

The white paper on which the New York Tribune is now printed, in its enlarged form, costs more than its parson pays for a copy already printed—two cents a copy. Cheap enough.

The gold coinage of the United States in Philadelphia, during the month of April amounted to $5,305,030, the silver to $412,907, and the copper 2,510—totalling in all to $5,726,539.

Curious Facts relating to Gold.—Put 200 new sovereigns and 200 new English shillings in average ordinary circulation, and in one year the former will be worth about 299 and the latter about 82.

The malleability of gold can be carried to such an extent, that an apartment twelve feet square might be carpeted for thirty or forty dollars.

The celebrated Dr. Wollaston manufactured a piece of gold wire one thirty-thousandth part of an inch in thickness; and it is calculated that the gold on the very finest silver wire for gold lace is no more than one third of one millionth of an inch in thickness.—N. Y. Tribune.

If you ever intercept me you.

Communications.

DANVILLE, May 11, 1853.
To the Editors of the Tribune:

Some time in January last a call was made on me through your paper to become a candidate for a seat in the next Legislature of Kentucky, to which I responded January 26th, and declined at that time to be a candidate. I closed my response of that date thus: "With my warmest thanks to those who made the call tendering me their support, I respectfully decline running for any office at the present time."

After the adjustment, Col. King, in a very happy and appropriate speech, announced his declination.

The canvass was then opened by Mr.

CHRISMAN, of Wayne county, and Col.

BRAMLETTE, who each addressed a large collection of citizens at the court house,

and we now suppose that the race is regularly made up by both parties.

Col. Bramlette's prospects for success

were bright and cheering, and success

awaits the Whigs at the August election,

Yours, &c., S. G. S.

worthy of himself, and the noble county of Cumberland, by promptly and patriotically sacrificing his own personal ambition upon the altar of his country, and for the harmony of the District.

After the adjustment, Col. King, in a very happy and appropriate speech, announced his declination.

The canvass was then opened by Mr. CHRISMAN, of Wayne county, and Col. BRAMLETTE, who each addressed a large collection of citizens at the court house,

and we now suppose that the race is regularly made up by both parties.

Col. Bramlette's prospects for success

were bright and cheering, and success

awaits the Whigs at the August election,

Yours, &c., S. G. S.

For the Kentucky Tribune.

TAZEWELL, TENN., May 4, 1853.

MESSES. EDITORS:

At a Railroad Convention held at Russellville, Tenn., on the 27th ult., the undersigned were appointed a committee to correspond with persons interested in a Railroad passing through Cumberland Gap, connecting the country on the Ohio, with the South and East, for the purpose of getting them to meet us in convention at Cumberland Gap, on the 14th of June next, to take into consideration the proper steps to be taken, to secure the object when to come forth.

We deem it wholly unnecessary to advance any arguments to you in support of the design of said convention, as we doubt not you are alive to its importance, but merely desire to call your attention to the subject, and ask you to meet us at said time and place, with other citizens of your county and State.

Respectfully,
WILLIAM HOUSTON,
W. R. EVANS,
M. CARRIGER,
L. A. GARRETT,
F. M. FULKERSON.
Com'ee of Corres'dence.

For the Kentucky Tribune.

TEXAS.

First Settlement.—The first settlement of Texas was made in 1800 by the French, on Matagorda bay. They however, were soon expelled by the Spaniards. Texas, at that period, was almost a wilderness, with the exception of a few miserable Mexican villages. After the bloody defeat of the Republicans on the Meona, in 1813, the whole country was perfectly abandoned to the Indians. Austin's Colony.—The winter of 1820, Moses Austin, Esq., native of Connecticut, but at that time a resident of Missouri, obtained a grant of land in Texas. His grant was quite extensive, including a district of country one hundred and fifty miles square. Moses Austin dying before he could avail himself of the contract, the duty of performing its stipulations devolved upon his son, Stephen Fuller Austin, who in the year 1821, visited Texas and made all necessary arrangements with the Governor, and returned to the United States.

The fall of the same year he returned to Texas on the Brazos river with a party of three hundred families he was authorised to colonize. Young Austin soon acquired the Mexican language and obtained from the supreme government a full confirmation of his father's grant to himself. Stephen F. Austin's memory is still held dear by every old Texan. He has been exonerated and completely vindicated by a full confirmation of his father's grant to himself. Stephen F. Austin's memory is still held dear by every old Texan. He has been exonerated and completely vindicated by a full confirmation of his father's grant to himself.

Although Mr. Morrow has seen proper to father the article against me, yet the community do not give him the credit of writing it, but suppose that some person is ill-bred and unprincipled as he is, for a few quarters in parts, has been bribed and hired to write it for him. Mr. Morrow is my personal enemy, and became so because, in the honest discharge of my duties as attorney for the town, I was compelled to prosecute him for selling whisky in Danville without license. You cannot touch the liquor question, which is the idol of his heart, without throwing him into a spasmodic fit. The whole letter was conceived in corruption and brought forth in malice. Mr. Morrow denied his offspring to a number, and became furious when you, Messrs. Editors, gave up his name. I merely wished to let the community know who the secret author of the article was, for it answers itself when the author's name is known; and I will further say, that I do not expect to trouble you in replying to any other articles that may emanate from the same source, for Mr. Morrow is too well known in this community for his tongue or his pen to slander or injure any person.

He is the same A. S. Morrow, who thus confidently regards as dime and quarter-long enough, at the midnight hour, to meet his subtle customers about his whisky shop, or for a quart receive his sable friend's quarter, or it may be, some species of property, which the sable man may have required, either honestly or dishonestly.

Although Mr. Morrow has seen proper to father the article against me, yet the community do not give him the credit of writing it, but suppose that some person is ill-bred and unprincipled as he is, for a few quarters in parts, has been bribed and hired to write it for him. Mr. Morrow is my personal enemy, and became so because, in the honest discharge of my duties as attorney for the town, I was compelled to prosecute him for selling whisky in Danville without license. You cannot touch the liquor question, which is the idol of his heart, without throwing him into a spasmodic fit. The whole letter was conceived in corruption and brought forth in malice. Mr. Morrow denied his offspring to a number, and became furious when you, Messrs. Editors, gave up his name. I merely wished to let the community know who the secret author of the article was, for it answers itself when the author's name is known; and I will further say, that I do not expect to trouble you in replying to any other articles that may emanate from the same source, for Mr. Morrow is too well known in this community for his tongue or his pen to slander or injure any person.

He is the same A. S. Morrow, who thus confidently regards as dime and quarter-long enough, at the midnight hour, to meet his subtle customers about his whisky shop, or for a quart receive his sable friend's quarter, or it may be, some species of property, which the sable man may have required, either honestly or dishonestly.

Although Mr. Morrow has seen proper to father the article against me, yet the community do not give him the credit of writing it, but suppose that some person is ill-bred and unprincipled as he is, for a few quarters in parts, has been bribed and hired to write it for him. Mr. Morrow is my personal enemy, and became so because, in the honest discharge of my duties as attorney for the town, I was compelled to prosecute him for selling whisky in Danville without license. You cannot touch the liquor question, which is the idol of his heart, without throwing him into a spasmodic fit. The whole letter was conceived in corruption and brought forth in malice. Mr. Morrow denied his offspring to a number, and became furious when you, Messrs. Editors, gave up his name. I merely wished to let the community know who the secret author of the article was, for it answers itself when the author's name is known; and I will further say, that I do not expect to trouble you in replying to any other articles that may emanate from the same source, for Mr. Morrow is too well known in this community for his tongue or his pen to slander or injure any person.

He is the same A. S. Morrow, who thus confidently regards as dime and quarter-long enough, at the midnight hour, to meet his subtle customers about his whisky shop, or for a quart receive his sable friend's quarter, or it may be, some species of property, which the sable man may have required, either honestly or dishonestly.

Although Mr. Morrow has seen proper to father the article against me, yet the community do not give him the credit of writing it, but suppose that some person is ill-bred and unprincipled as he is, for a few quarters in parts, has been bribed and hired to write it for him. Mr. Morrow is my personal enemy, and became so because, in the honest discharge of my duties as attorney for the town, I was compelled to prosecute him for selling whisky in Danville without license. You cannot touch the liquor question, which is the idol of his heart, without throwing him into a spasmodic fit. The whole letter was conceived in corruption and brought forth in malice. Mr. Morrow denied his offspring to a number, and became furious when you, Messrs. Editors, gave up his name. I merely wished to let the community know who the secret author of the article was, for it answers itself when the author's name is known; and I will further say, that I do not expect to trouble you in replying to any other articles that may emanate from the same source, for Mr. Morrow is too well known in this community for his tongue or his pen to slander or injure any person.

He is the same A. S. Morrow, who thus confidently regards as dime and quarter-long enough, at the midnight hour, to meet his subtle customers about his whisky shop, or for a quart receive his sable friend's quarter, or it may be, some species of property, which the sable man may have required, either honestly or dishonestly.

Although Mr. Morrow has seen proper to father the article against me, yet the community do not give him the credit of writing it, but suppose that some person is ill-bred and unprincipled as he is, for a few quarters in parts, has been bribed and hired to write it for him. Mr. Morrow is my personal enemy, and became so because, in the honest discharge of my duties as attorney for the town, I was compelled to prosecute him for selling whisky in Danville without license. You cannot touch the liquor question, which is the idol of his heart, without throwing him into a spasmodic fit. The whole letter was conceived in corruption and brought forth in malice. Mr. Morrow denied his offspring to a number, and became furious when you, Messrs. Editors, gave up his name. I merely wished to let the community know who the secret author of the article was, for it answers itself when the author's name is known; and I will further say, that I do not expect to trouble you in replying to any other articles that may emanate from the same source, for Mr. Morrow is too well known in this community for his tongue or his pen to slander or injure any person.

He is the same A. S. Morrow, who thus confidently regards as dime and quarter-long enough, at the midnight hour, to meet his subtle customers about his whisky shop, or for a quart receive his sable friend's quarter, or it may be, some species of property, which the sable man may have required, either honestly or dishonestly.

Although Mr. Morrow has seen proper to father the article against me, yet the community do not give him the credit of writing it, but suppose that some person is ill-bred and unprincipled as he is, for a few quarters in parts, has been bribed and hired to write it for him. Mr. Morrow is my personal enemy, and became so because, in the honest discharge of my duties as attorney for the town, I was compelled to prosecute him for selling whisky in Danville without license. You cannot touch the liquor question, which is the idol of his heart, without throwing him into a spasmodic fit. The whole letter was conceived in corruption and brought forth in malice. Mr. Morrow denied his offspring to a number, and became furious when you, Messrs. Editors, gave up his name. I merely wished to let the community know who the secret author of the article was, for it answers itself when the author's name is known; and I will further say, that I do not expect to trouble you in replying to any other articles that may emanate from the same source, for Mr. Morrow is too well known in this community for his tongue or his pen to slander or injure any person.

He is the same A. S. Morrow, who thus confidently regards as dime and quarter-long enough, at the midnight hour, to meet his subtle customers about his whisky shop, or for a quart receive his sable friend's quarter, or it may be, some species of property, which the sable man may have required, either honestly or dishonestly.

Although Mr. Morrow has seen proper to father the article against me, yet the community do not give him the credit of writing it, but suppose that some person is ill-bred and unprincipled as he is, for a few quarters in parts, has been bribed and hired to write it for him. Mr. Morrow is my personal enemy, and became so because, in the honest discharge of my duties as attorney for the town, I was compelled to prosecute him for selling whisky in Danville without license. You cannot touch the liquor question, which is the idol of his heart, without throwing him into a spasmodic fit. The whole letter was conceived in corruption and brought forth in malice. Mr. Morrow denied his offspring to a number, and became furious when you, Messrs. Editors, gave up his name. I merely wished to let the community know who the secret author of the article was, for it answers itself when the author's name is known; and I will further say, that I do not expect to trouble you in replying to any other articles that may emanate from the same source, for Mr. Morrow is too well known in this community for his tongue or his pen to slander or injure any person.

He is the same A. S. Morrow, who thus confidently regards as dime and quarter-long enough, at the midnight hour, to meet his subtle customers about his whisky shop, or for a quart receive his sable friend's quarter, or it may be, some species of property, which the sable man may have required, either honestly or dishonestly.

Although Mr. Morrow has seen proper to father the article against me, yet the community do not give him the credit of writing it, but suppose that some person is ill-bred and unprincipled as he is, for a few quarters in parts, has been bribed and hired to write it for him. Mr. Morrow is my personal enemy, and became so because, in the honest discharge of my duties as attorney for the town, I was compelled to prosecute him for selling whisky in Danville without license. You cannot touch the liquor question, which is the idol of his heart, without throwing him into a spasmodic fit. The whole letter was conceived in corruption and brought forth in malice. Mr. Morrow denied his offspring to a number, and became furious when you, Messrs. Editors, gave up his name. I merely wished to let the community know who the secret author of the article was, for it answers itself when the author's name is known; and I will further say, that I do not expect to trouble you in replying to any other articles that may emanate from the same source, for Mr. Morrow is too well known in this community for his tongue or his pen to slander or injure any person.

He is the same A. S. Morrow, who thus confidently regards as dime and quarter-long enough, at the midnight hour, to meet his subtle customers about his whisky shop, or for a quart receive his sable friend's quarter, or it may be, some species of property, which the sable man may have required, either honestly or dishonestly.

Although Mr. Morrow has seen proper to father the article against me, yet the community do not give him the credit of writing it, but suppose that some person is ill-bred and unprincipled as he is, for a few quarters in parts, has been bribed and hired to write it for him. Mr. Morrow is my personal enemy, and became so because, in the honest discharge of my duties as attorney for the town, I was compelled to prosecute him for selling whisky

THE TRIBUNE.

IN UNION THERE IS STRENGTH.
DANVILLE, VA.
Friday Morning, May 13, 1853.

It is very certain, says the Louisville Journal, that the partiality, which President Pierce, in the distribution of the patronage of his office, has manifested towards the two factions, the Northern faction and the Southern faction, which labored to defeat the compromise and to destroy the Union, has given grave and deep offence to the great mass of the old fashioned patriotism of the nation. The President's policy of showering rewards upon the Northern Abolitionist and the ultra Southern rights men, to the almost entire exclusion of the patriots who devoted their energies to their country's salvation, must be and certainly is disapproved by all who truly love their country and who feel that their country embraces the whole North, the whole South, the whole East, and the whole West.

Barnum's celebrated Museum and Menagerie drew a great crowd at this place on Wednesday last.

We see by a recent arrival from Mexico, that Santa Anna arrived in the city of Mexico on the morning of the 17th of April, amidst the rejoicings of the inhabitants, who testified by their manner the great joy they experienced at his return. The whole city was brilliantly illuminated at night, and amidst the booming of cannon and the firing of rockets, their new chief resumed his power.

The Statesman says that there is not now a vacant business house in Lexington. Property holders will have to build pretty rapidly to supply the demand for houses, as the city seems to have taken a fresh start, and is increasing very fast, both in the number of its citizens and the extent and importance of its trade.

Col. T. E. Bramlette and Maj. J. S. Christian, the Whig and Democratic candidates for Congress in this district, were in this city on Tuesday last. They were both in fine health and spirits, and have commenced the canvass with energy having already spoken at several points. Major Christian looks forward, we suppose, with commendable solicitude to the terrible drubbing which he is to receive at the polls on the 1st Monday in August next.

CENTRAL KENTUCKY STOCK AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL ASSOCIATION.—The regular meeting of this association was not held on Saturday last, as advertised, on account of the very unfavorable weather. It will be held to-morrow evening, at the Court House. As there is much important business to be transacted, it is desired that as many of the members as possible should attend.

Col. T. E. Bramlette and Maj. J. S. Christian, the Whig and Democratic candidates for Congress in this district, were in this city on Tuesday last. They were both in fine health and spirits, and have commenced the canvass with energy having already spoken at several points. Major Christian looks forward, we suppose, with commendable solicitude to the terrible drubbing which he is to receive at the polls on the 1st Monday in August next.

ILLNESS OF SECRETARY DAVIS.—The Hon. Jefferson Davis, Secretary of War, is confined to his bed with an attack of neuralgia.

At a recent convention in Virginia, to nominate a candidate for Congress, one man voted for Beelzebub. We presume, of course, that the noted old fellow must be a resident of that district.

An English paper states that several cases of bad health had been traced to papering rooms with green paper. The color is formed in part with arsenic. In some parts of Germany this kind of paper has been forbidden by the authorities.

The Massillon News, in speaking of a fire which lately occurred there, says: "Our fire department was promptly on hand. It consists of five tin pails, and as many wooden buckets as can be caught up at the various stores and shops around town."

Able "fire department" that! We have the pleasure to announce that our city is supplied with one of the same description.

ELECTION OF CONSTABLES.—At the election held on Saturday last, the following gentlemen were elected Constables for this county:

1st District—NATHAN W. PIFER.
2d District—JACOB GOODNIGHT.
3d District—THOS. P. YOUNG.
4th District—PAUL J. DONEGHY.

Mr. JAMES H. IRVINE was elected Magistrate in the 4th district to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of J. S. Hopkins, Esq.

THE CROPS.—With a few exceptions, the papers throughout the great West speak of the growing grain crops as being in the most promising condition, and giving token of an abundant harvest. We have never seen or heard of fewer complaints, on this score, in any previous season. The Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin papers all concur in saying that present indications warrant high expectations of the coming crop. From Illinois we have some complaints, but not more than at this time last year.

Pierce's majority over Scott on the popular vote is shown by the full corrected official returns to be 202,008. Taylor's majority over Cass was 230,447, and Polk's over Clay 37,370.

C. S. Frederici was elected Magistrate and J. W. Tisdale constable, in the Crab Orchard district, Lincoln county, on Saturday last.

Ben Edwards Grey is now the only Whig candidate for Congress in the Second District, Maj. Campbell having withdrawn to unite the party.

A Northern exchange, noticing in the seizure of four barrels of rum, and the emptying of them, says: Out of those four bung holes ran murders, thefts, outrages, lunacy, rows, blows, head aches, degradation, poverty, red eyes, broken heads, tears, sorrows of children, rage, want, starvation, and all abominations. It is hoped that the loss of these things is not unconstitutional.

The Military Commission for the selection of a military asylum in the West, met at Washington last week—all the members present. A telegraphic dispatch, of the 7th, from Washington, says that the choice has fallen upon the Harrodsburg Springs. It will be remembered that Gen. Twiggs and Surgeon General Lawson visited that place a few weeks ago, for the purpose of examining it with a view to its location as a site for this asylum.

FOURTEEN SLAUGHTER HOUSES BURNED!—A fire broke out in a row of slaughter houses in 59th street, N. Y., on the 5th, between the 11th and 12th Avenues.—Fourteen of the buildings were destroyed, and a large number of live hogs, with one horse, were burned to death.

THE CONSPIRATORS.—The trial of the Martha Washington conspirators has commenced at Columbus, Ohio. Nicholson, the clerk, has forfeited his recognizance, $6000. Burglarious attempts have been made to obtain possession of the important papers in the case.

PROBABLE MURDER.—The body of a man was found in the Kentucky river, on last Sunday evening, by the Diana, at Clacklick. The deceased had evidently been murdered and afterwards thrown into the river, as he had two stabs of a knife in his father, Col. Richard Taylor, a revolutionary soldier.

GOVERNOE OF NEW MEXICO.—The Hon. David Meriwether, of Jefferson, has been appointed, by the President, Governor of New Mexico, in place of Wm. Carr Lane, of St. Louis, removed.

A Florida paper states that according to a careful estimate recently made, there are only 266 Indians in Florida, and only 86 of these men and boys able to bear arms.

But one ballot was had in the Whig Congressional Convention held at Bardstown for the 5th district. The vote total Hill 52, Thompson 16, Thomas 6, when C. S. Hill, Esq., was declared the pointe.

There are 890 licensed coffee-houses in the city of Louisville.

DRUNKARDS IN NEW JERSEY.—By a late law of the State, habitual drunkards are allowed no more liberty to manage their property than idiots or lunatics.—And whoever furnishes liquor to any drunkard, after receiving notice from his guardian, is subjected to a fine of $10.

A somerset match for 200 guineas has recently been concluded in London, between Arthur Barnes, an Englishman and Hiram Franklin, an American, in favor of the former; Barnes threw 393, and Franklin 313 somersets.

THE CABINET.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune writes:

The Cabinet is a unit only against the President. The members have formed a league to sustain each other. Marcy is fully re-established. It is certain that Pierce will allow him to make all the foreign appointments. No man hostile to Marcy can receive even a Consulate. The pressure on the President has exhausted his patience, and he gives notice in the Union to-day that he will receive visitors but three times a week, and then but for the limited space of but two hours, thus transferring all the power to the Cabinet. Marcy's influence is regarded of more consequence than the President's. Pierce has not energy enough to save his friends from slaughter. Marcy goes his friend Borland to a full mission, as he will his friends Wood of Ohio, Meade of Virginia, and Trousdale of Tennessee.

DREADFUL RAILROAD ACCIDENT—GREAT LOSS OF LIFE.—A despatch from Norwich, Conn., of the 6th, says that the morning train from New Haven ran off the drawbridge at that place, into the river. At last accounts 54 bodies, principally of physicians returning from the New York Medical Convention, had been recovered. No person from the West was killed. The bridge tender made the usual signals to warn the engineer, who paid no attention but dashed on at full speed.

A singular insurance case will, it is said, soon be reached in one of the Boston courts. A life insurance company is sued for a policy which they refuse to pay. The person whose life was insured committed suicide, and the policy of all life companies contains a clause that they will not pay in case a man dies by his own hand, or while fighting a duel. In the present case the claimants allege that the suicide was committed while in a state of mental derangement; and it will be for the Court to decide whether, in case there is no other bar to payment, suicide under such circumstances comes within the exclusion of the company.

The Alexandria Gazette says: An intelligent and well informed correspondent of the National Intelligencer, from New York writes that much uneasiness and distrust prevails there in regard, principally, to three points—the equivocal position and uncertain tendency of our foreign relations; the unheard of corruption of the city government; and lastly, the dubious prospects of the money market. With regard to two at least of these subjects, the whole country is deeply interested. We know of nothing so likely to keep us safe as the adoption of Mr. Everett's policy—Give us twenty five years of peace! In that time we should be able to overcome all difficulties. Disurb, however, the public peace, drag us into the contentions of the world, encourage filibustering and disregard of law, and involve us in war, and we know not what calamities may be in store for us.

LEXINGTON AND DANVILLE RAILROAD.—The citizens of the counties of Mercer and Marion, have engaged the services of the distinguished Engineer, Alonso Livermore, Esq., to survey a route from some point on the Lexington and Danville Railroad, through Harrodsburg and Lebanon, to connect with the Nashville and Louisville Railroad at some point in Hart or Barren counties.

LEXINGTON AND DANVILLE RAILROAD.—The citizens of the counties of Mercer and Marion, have engaged the services of the distinguished Engineer, Alonso Livermore, Esq., to survey a route from some point on the Lexington and Danville Railroad, through Harrodsburg and Lebanon, to connect with the Nashville and Louisville Railroad at some point in Hart or Barren counties.

TEXAS GOLD MINES.—A despatch from New Orleans of the 8th inst., says: "Galveston dates to the 3d are received, which state that there is great excitement on account of the gold mines being discovered on the Colorado river; emigrants are flocking thither, and 400 are already at work, realizing from five to ten dollars per day each. Farmers are leaving their crops, and the whole State is wild with excitement. The soil for an hundred miles around has been examined, and contains a deposit as rich as California.

THE GRAVE OF PRESIDENT TAYLOR.—A correspondent of the New York Observer writes as follows on a subject which ought to be of national interest:

To reach Gen. Taylor's grave you must wind through by-ways, and finally stop before a small enclosure on the top of a hill in an open field, surrounded by a rude stone wall; and just on the other side of that wall you will see a very plain vault, with a front of limestone rocks, roughly hewn, and an iron door, and that you will be told is the tomb of the once famous General Zachary Taylor, President of the United States of America. No monument has been erected to his memory. His name has not even been inscribed on his vault. In the centre of the small grave-yard there is a monument erected to the memory of his father, Col. Richard Taylor, a revolutionary soldier.

GOVERNOR OF NEW MEXICO.—The body of a man was found in the Kentucky river, on last Sunday evening, by the Diana, at Clacklick. The deceased had evidently been murdered and afterwards thrown into the river, as he had two stabs of a knife in his throat.

ANOTHER SLAVE STATE—Abolitionists caught napping.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun has the following singular statement:

The new territory of Washington, so fertile and salubrious, and so inviting to agricultural enterprise, is opened, by the liberality of Congress, for the reception of Southern immigrants with their slaves. A considerable number of citizens of Missouri and Kentucky, and probably Virginia, will avail themselves of the boon and of the opportunity thus unexpectedly afforded for the introduction of another great slave State into the Union.

Mr. Chase, Mr. Hale and Mr. Sumner were so wholly engrossed by their admiration of the works and triumphs of Mrs. Stowe, that they suffered the bill establishing the magnificent territory of Washington to be passed without the usual recognition of the ordinance of 1798—or the Wilmot Proviso.

MESS PORT, bbl.

Bacon, hams,

clear sides,

shoulders,

Lard, prime hams,

FLOUR, extra, bbl.

Wheat, 2 bushel,

Corn, in the ear,

Oats,

Hay, ton;

BAGGING, HEMP, &c.—

Bagging,

Hemp, raw-dotted, ton;

SUGAR, &c.—

Cotton, &c.

Wool, clean washed,

Feathers,

Clover Seed, bush.

Hemp "

PROVISIONS—

Mess Pork, bbl.

Bacon, hams,

clear sides,

shoulders,

Lard, prime hams,

FLOUR, extra, bbl.

Wheat, 2 bushel,

Corn, in the ear,

Oats,

Hay, ton;

BAGGING, HEMP, &c.—

Bagging,

Hemp, raw-dotted, ton;

SUGAR, &c.—

Cotton, &c.

Wool, clean washed,

Feathers,

Clover Seed, bush.

Hemp "

PROVISIONS—

Mess Pork, bbl.

Bacon, hams,

clear sides,

shoulders,

Lard, prime hams,

FLOUR, extra, bbl.

Wheat, 2 bushel,

Corn, in the ear,

Oats,

Hay, ton;

BAGGING, HEMP, &c.—

Bagging,

Hemp, raw-dotted, ton;

SUGAR, &c.—

Cotton, &c.

Wool, clean washed,

Feathers,

Clover Seed, bush.

Hemp "

PROVISIONS—

Mess Pork, bbl.

Bacon, hams,

clear sides,

shoulders,

Lard, prime hams,

FLOUR, extra, bbl.

Wheat, 2 bushel,

Corn, in the ear,

Oats,

Hay, ton;

BAGGING, HEMP, &c.—

Bagging,

Hemp, raw-dotted, ton;

SUGAR, &c.—

Cotton, &c.

Wool, clean washed,

Feathers,

Clover Seed, bush.

An Attractive Stock of
DRY GOODS,
For Spring and Summer Trade.

J. W. COCHRAN & CO.

CHARCOAL FOR SWINE.—It is not perhaps generally known, that one of the best articles that can be given to swine, while in preparation, for the tub, is common charcoal. The nutritive properties are so great, that they have subsisted on it, without other food, for weeks together. Geese confined, so as to deprive them of motion, and fastened on three grains of corn per day, and as much coal as they can devour, have become fat in eight days. The hog eats voraciously after a little time, and is never sick while he has a good supply. It should always be kept in the sty, and fed regularly to the inmates, the other food.

SPECIAL MANUFACTURE FOR GRAPES.—The wine committee, at the exhibition of the Cincinnati Horticultural Society, reported that the two specimens of wine, one from grapes to which a special manuring of pouashed had been given, the wine from manured grapes was bright clear and mellow, like an old wine. The wine was declared to be less matured in all its qualities, nor was it clear. The grapes themselves, from the two portions of ground, were also presented to the committee. Both were delicious and well ripened, but it was considered that those from the manured land were sweeter and that the pulp was softer.

Good.—A gentleman told us an anecdote the other day which we think too good to lose. He said that a rich old fellow who used to live in the neighborhood of Natchez, Miss., used to keep a carriage and a pair of horses for his daughter's exclusive benefit, and, as a matter of course, the young ladies used to make good use of them; scarcely a day passing over their heads that did not find them going or coming from Natchez. The old man, in the meantime, you must recollect, was very close in matters of money. The horses began to look thin—so thin that one would have supposed that their only provender was barrel hoops, shavings or something similar. One day the old gentleman was standing in front of one of the hotels in Natchez, when the carriage rolled past, and his horses were made the subject of conversation. The old gentleman said he could not account for there being so poor, he was sure that he had done all in his power to make them look decent, and had tried almost every thing, but the confounded horses never would improve.

'Meester,' said a raw Irishman, giving the old gentleman a quizzical leer, as he continued, 'Did ye ever thy corn?'

FRESH STOCK!

J. UST received at J. C. HEWEY'S Confectionery, Grocery and Variety Store:

Groceries.
200 lbs. prime No. 1 N. O. Sugar,
800 " Crystallized "
800 " Crushed "
1200 " Java, Laguiva and Rio Coffee,
50 " sup. Green and Black Tea,
300 " Rice,
400 " W. R. and Dairy Cheese,
" Pine Apple "
25 " Ground Pepper,
25 " in bottles,
2 lbs. Cider Vinegar.

Confectioneries.

450 lbs. assorted Candies,
50 " Kisses, plain,
20 " French,
30 cans Fresh Peaches,
25 " Pres'd "
25 " Apricots,
10 drums sap. Figs,
4 cartons Eggs,
8 boxes Layer and M. R. Raisins,
150 lbs. Languec S. S. Almonds,
100 " Brazil Nuts,
100 " English Walnuts,
100 " Texas Pecans,
100 " Filberts,

Cigars and Tobaccos.

1000 Regalas—Imperial,
1000 " La Vieja,
1000 " Monte Cristo,
100 " La Fiel,
1000 " Cuban de Oro,
2000 Assorted Principe,
5000 Half Spanish Cigars,
100 lbs. Lynchburg Tobacco,
200 " Ft. Missouri,
100 " Blumb "
400 " ass'd Common "
50 " Virginia Twist "
30 " Nectarine "

Besides a thousand other articles not necessary to mention—all of which will be sold at Wholesale or Retail, low for cash.

J. C. HEWEY,
No. 23, Main st.

April 22, '53

For Sale or Rent.

THE HOUSE AND LOT lately owned and occupied by Mr. W. H. Kerr, and now occupied by Jno. S. Stinson, situated on Third street, above the residence of Mr. Tuckerman. This is a very valuable and convenient property, with abundant Water, Fruit, Trees, a good garden, Stable, &c.

J. A. JACOBS.

Danville, March 18, '53

WILLIAM BURKHARDT,
(Successor to W. G. Stewart & Co.)

Wholesale and Retail Grocer,

DEALER IN

Fine Groceries, Tea, Family Flour,

Wines, Liqueurs, Candy, Imported

Fruits, Preserves, Pickles,

Hermetically sealed Fruits and Fish, Tw

Cordage, Brooms, Mats, Wooden

Ware, Baskets, &c., &c.

NEW MARKET STREETS,

LOUISVILLE, KY.

March 18, '53

CURRANTS, Raisins, Figs, &c.

25 cases Zante Currents;

50 boxes and half boxes Raisins;

200 " Ft. Missouri;

100 " Blumb "

400 " ass'd Common "

50 " Virginia Twist "

30 " Nectarine "

In store and for sale by

W. M. BURKHARDT, Louisville.

PRESERVES, &c.

5 cases preserved Peaches;

5 cases Pears; 5 cases Pine Apples;

5 " Plums; 3 " Quinces;

1 " Turnips; 1 " Limes;

3 " Ginger;

3 " Fresh Peaches;

3 " Whortleberries;

In store and for sale by

W. M. BURKHARDT, Louisville.

WILLOW Ware.—Clothes Baskets, Market Baskets, Work baskets plain and embossed, Travelling and Children's Toy buskets, Cradles, Wagons, Chairs, &c., in store and for sale by

W. M. BURKHARDT, Louisville.

PICKLES, SAUCES, &c.

10 boxes Pickles—assorted,

5 " Worcester Shire,

5 " John Bull's "

5 " Tomato and Mushroom Catsup,

3 " Underwood's Relish,

15 " Fr. Foster—assorted,

3 " English Pickles,

In store and for sale by

W. M. BURKHARDT, Louisville.

WOODEN WARE.—A large assortment of Wooden Ware, Brass-bound Cedar

Buckets, Table Prints and Cedar Trays, Bowls,

Piggins, Butter, Mincers and Prints, Water

Cans, all sizes brass-bound Measures, Wash-

Boards, Rolling and Clothes Pins, Spoons, Dishes, and a variety of other articles in store,

and for sale by

W. M. BURKHARDT, Louisville.

BRONCO, CREAM and CHOCOLATE.

20 Boxes Baker's Chocolate;

10 " " Bronco;

10 " " Cacao;

100 Cracked Cocoa and Cocoa Shells, in store and for sale by

W. M. BURKHARDT, Louisville.

FRUIT TOMATOES.—A large supply in cans—very superior—for sale at

J. C. HEWEY'S.

April 8

W. M. BURKHARDT, Louisville.

DEPARTMENT OF

FRESH & GENUINE

GARDEN SEEDS!

FOR SALE by

W. M. STOUT,

Main st., Danville, Ky.

March 4, '53

At the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53

At the sign of the Big Book and Mortar,

March 4, '53